Welcome..

or Bon Bini in the language of the islands. Thanks for taking the time to read our brochure. Fun Travel is the only specialist tour operator for the Antilles islands, also known as the Dutch Caribbean, the islands of Bonaire, Curaçao, Aruba, St. Martin, Statia and Saba.

Bonaire Fun Travel was founded six years ago in the Netherlands. Local knowledge and friendly customer service, has been the basis of our success. Starting with holidays to Bonaire, hence the name, the company grew quickly and was soon offering holidays on the other islands in the Dutch Caribbean. Bonaire Fun Travel, Netherlands, have published several brochures over the years, each one bigger and better, and this year will publish separate brochures for several Caribbean islands, a real measure of their success.

The Fun Travel UK office was opened in response to growing interest in the Dutch Caribbean from people in the UK and Ireland, and now a brochure is needed specifically for the British and Irish tourist. We publish this new brochure with a sense of achievement, as it is the first brochure to be published specifically for the UK and Ireland. Our UK brochure features the three main islands, Aruba, Bonaire and Curaçao.

We tried to keep the text short, and avoid "brochure speak", whilst trying to give you as much information as we can. We love talking about the islands, so please feel free to contact us. Even small details can make or spoil a holiday, and need to be resolved before you travel.

The Netherlands company and the UK company are family run companies. The De Rooij family, with the support of their colleagues, in the Netherlands, and the UK company is run by Doug and Marie Durrant from their office in Northamptonshire. We tailor-make each holiday individually to your requirements and wishes. We organise a "holiday plan" but it is your holiday plan, not one from "off the shelf". We give personal service, we are a small company, so we don't have any other kind of service! We do not sell holidays, we organise them, and then it's up to you. We get enormous job satisfaction from knowing that people enjoy these holidays. However, the islands have a commitment to their environment, which is to be admired and supported, and this adds to the pleasure we get from doing our job. Our policy is to be honest, open and fair to our customers. We give information honestly and handle issues that might arise with common sense. Travel companies say their advice is objective, but ours is based on recent personal experience and local knowledge.

We are an independent tour operator. We have personally visited and selected the accommodation in this brochure. Advice or information we offer is entirely without obligation. We never hide behind the small print – in fact we don't have any small print!

Thanks for your interest. Please see our contact details on the back page of this brochure. We would be delighted to discuss any plans you have for a holiday to these wonderful islands.
